

LOGO+

The rail-road container and conventional cargo handling service ensures seamless intermodal transfer between rail and road transport systems. It includes the loading and unloading of containers, swap bodies, and standard cargo units, using specialized equipment and dedicated terminals. This service optimizes logistics efficiency, reduces transit times, and supports sustainable transport by integrating rail freight into the supply chain. Ideal for import/export flows and long-distance distribution.